MILITARY INFLUENCER CONFERENCE

They serve us, so we want to serve them! Mark Igo and Michelle Dudas will be headed to Florida this September to attend the 2nd Annual Military Influencer Conference. MIC, as it's called, will host over 350 military "Vetrepreneurs" (military Veterans-turned-business-owners), military spouse business owners, and several companies dedicated to hiring those who have served our country. We will be sharing all the marketing services that bBIG Communications has to offer, including the newly developed military spouse influencer program, as well as our My Home Base platform, which helps keep military members and their families "in-the-know" about Commissary and Exchange deals, as well as community events.
